

This documentary about Gian Lorenzo Bernini, creator of the Baroque sculptural style, analyzes in detail more than 60 masterpieces on display in Villa Borghese in Rome.

“No artist defined 17th-century Rome more than Gian Lorenzo Bernini did, working under nine popes and leaving an indelible mark on the Eternal City. And there is probably no better place to appreciate his talent and genius than the Borghese Gallery in Rome, the villa — now a museum — built by his first patron, Cardinal Scipione Borghese, where Bernini revealed his talent for capturing tension and drama in stone.” -- The New York Times
